

Corporate Voting Policy

Policy Overview

Findlay Park Partners LLP (“Findlay Park”) is a UK Investment Management Company that invests primarily in US equities on behalf of investors in the Findlay Park American Fund.

We are committed to being active stewards of our clients’ assets. We challenge companies - through engagement with management and the exercise of our voting rights - where we see scope for improvement that will deliver long-term value to shareholders.

This document describes how Findlay Park exercises its voting rights on behalf of investors in the Findlay Park American Fund. This policy should be read in conjunction with our Responsible Investment Policy and our response to the UK Stewardship Code, available on our website www.findlaypark.com; and our Voting and Engagement Report, which is available to clients on request.

Engagement with Investee Companies

We do not seek to influence the day-to-day management of investee companies but will meet with them on a regular basis and engage through dialogue on issues including management compensation, appropriate capital structure and dividend policy. In addition to exercising our voting rights, as an active investor we may determine that the best course of action for the investors in our Fund is to sell a stock if we have material concerns.

Voting approach

We aim for a 100% voting record at EGM/AGMs, and in 2018 we voted against one or more management resolutions at one in three meetings.

Although we subscribe to the services of an independent proxy voting service provider, Institutional Shareholder Services (‘ISS’), to help coordinate the process, portfolio managers co-covering a stock are responsible for every voting decision. A copy of the ISS policy guidelines can be found here.

We aim to exercise all voting rights. We take into account the specific circumstances of each company we invest in and demonstrate compliance with best practice. We do not participate in any stock lending arrangements and therefore retain voting rights across all holdings in the portfolio.

The Investment Committee regularly reviews upcoming AGM/EGM proxy votes, paying particular attention to contentious issues. The Chief Investment Officer’s approval is required if we decide to vote with management against the recommendation of a member of the investment team or a third party research source.

We vote FOR a resolution when the proposal is in line with market best practices and we have judged it is in the interests of our clients to support it.

We vote AGAINST a resolution when the proposal is out of line with market best practices and we have judged it is in the interests of our clients to oppose it.

We will only vote to ABSTAIN in exceptional circumstances.

Escalation

Before voting against a management resolution portfolio managers will engage with executive directors and, if appropriate, non-executive directors of the investee company to discuss our concerns.

Conflicts

Our business activity presents limited scope for conflicts of interest: we are engaged solely in investment management of one fund. We do not manage separate accounts and we do not deal on our own account. Our Personal Account Dealing Policy prohibits partners, employees and other connected persons from investing in direct listed equities. We have a conflicts of interest policy that can be found on our website.

In the unlikely event that a conflict of interest arises with regards to a voting decision, our policy is to vote in accordance with the recommendation from our independent voting service provider, ISS.

Collective Action

We do not feel it is compatible with our long-term outlook and investment philosophy to engage in hostile or public disputes with company boards, and in the past we have rarely found reason to act collectively with other investors. Nevertheless we will not hesitate to do so where we judge it to be in the best of interests of the investors in the Fund.

Reporting

We consider transparency to be an important aspect of stewardship. We maintain a record of all votes cast, recording detailed rationale for all votes against management. We report on our Voting and Engagement activities on a semi-annual basis. This report is available to investors in the Fund upon request.
